the Johann Wolfgang Goethe-University Frankfurt am Main, represented by the President, implemented by the following institution: Johann Christian Senckenberg University Library, represented by the Director the basic (non-exclusive) right for the period of benefit and irrespective of geographical region

- to provide public access to the work/collection including the abstract(s) and metadata via the repository and to enable the necessary reproductions (e.g. data back-up) in particular to store the work/collection and the abstract(s), as well as metadata and to grant access by digital means or other transmission technology for free and
- to convert the work/collection in the future into another data format, if deemed necessary, in order to protect the contents in the long-term and to ensure that access and usability are technically guaranteed, acknowledging that for these purposes it might be necessary to transfer content to another system for long-time storage such as that of the German National Library.

The Institution/the undersigned² certifies that with such duplication, disclosure or dissemination of the work/collection and each component thereof (such as images) no legal rights of a third party (such as co-authors, joint authors, publishers, collecting societies, funding institutions) will be violated. The Institution/the undersigned² pledges to inform the operator of the repository immediately in cases of doubt or assumed or actual related legal obstacles.

The Institution/the undersigned² agrees to indemnify the repository operator from claims made by third parties arising from culpable misrepresentation of the Institution/of the undersigned² with respect to the non-existence of third-party rights or any other circumstances represented by it/by him/her by publishing the work/the collection in the repository which leads to violating copyright or exclusive rights of usage. This does not apply if the violation is based on willful or gross negligent behavior on behalf of the repository operator and if the institution/the undersigned² is not burdened in the same way by intent or gross negligence. In the latter case a division of the damage will be made with consideration given especially to the party at fault.

The Institution/the undersigned² authorizes the German National Library and the relevant special collections libraries, to store the above mentioned work/the collection also in electronic form and to make it publicly accessible. The operator of the repository is empowered by the rights of this agreement to provide abstract(s) and metadata of the work/the collection via suitable interfaces for external providers of information (e.g. search engines) and, on request, to transfer these without needing separate approval of the Institution/the undersigned².
